Theistic Evolution... & why it's so dangerous.

Hugh Ross and many people like him feel that God could have used evolution to create life over billions of years. Why is it important when and how God created the universe and life? Jason Southard will take a look at what Hugh Ross and others have to say about theistic evolution, what the Bible has to say about theistic evolution, and answer the question: "why does it matter?"

This question is particularly pertinent now since Hugh Ross is coming to Albuquerque next April 11th so you'll want to get the latest on Ross and others. Jason is on the Creation Science Fellowship board of directors, and he handles the CSF videotape and technical loaning library.

Quote: this is one atheist that knows what it's about, if only the churches did...

"Christianity has fought, still fights, and will fight science to the desperate end over evolution, because evolution destroys utterly and finally the very reason Jesus' earthly life was supposedly made necessary. Destroy Adam and Eve and the original sin, and in the rubble you will find the sorry remains of the Son of God. Take away the meaning of his death. If Jesus was not the redeemer that died for our sins, and this is what evolution means, then Christianity is nothing." Bozarth, G. Richard, 1979. The meaning of evolution. American Atheist, 20 September, 1979, p. 30.

A CALL TO ARMS!!and legs and heads and bodies

CSF wants you! Do you want CSF? Creation Science Fellowship is an all-volunteer organization. Everything and anything that has been done for the last ten years has been done by people who got absolutely nothing in exchange for their efforts-except the knowledge that God was being honored and people were being uplifted. You just can't beat a combination like that.

Just this past year we had an Answers in Genesis (AIG) seminar, a book table at the last CAPE homeschool convention, a field trip to Mystery Mountain, eleven monthly presentations and a variety of other presentations. God has richly blessed CSF this year.

The AIG seminar was an absolute blast! The main sanctuary at Heights Cumberland was completely packed out both nights, and a ton of books were sold. Each of those books is like a little thought bomb. The initial charge may not seem like much, but the shock wave can grow and spread until it "... demolish[es] arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and take[s] captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ." (2 Cor. 10:5)

And, did you know... the best part of CSF is that ordinary people, like you and I, are the ones that can make all the difference in the world. You can start small or you can start right at the top. At the January meeting we will have elections for the board. From my own perspective, the best part of being on the board is having the opportunity to associate with some of the best and most interesting people I have ever had the privilege of knowing. I wish that everyone could have the opportunity to work, pray and play with this board.

If you are a member in good standing, and want to be involved in a ministry that honors the name of God and every word of scripture, then I heartily encourage you to put your name into nomination. But if you're not ready or not able to participate at that level then there are many other areas, large and small, in which you can make a difference.

Call the CSF (and Albuquerque Bible College) office at 828-1205. Leave your name and number, and let us know that you want to make a difference. Or leave your name and number at the book table at the upcoming meeting. If you want to know more, then please talk to one of the board members at the next meeting. There won't be a meeting in December so please act now...
